

20% Discount on training classes and courses

My name is Jeff Cantor and I am the President of the TRS International Group as well as the Training and Tactical Team Leader for Phoenix Intelligence, a registered United States Department of Defense Contractor with offices in the Middle East, Africa and Europe.

The TRS International Group is a private non-governmental global defense consulting, intelligence, protection, tactical training and risk consulting company.

We have been instrumental in providing security personnel, corporations, law enforcement, first responders, military as well as individuals and families with comprehensive strategic defense consulting, protective services, tactical training and a host of other uniquely crafted services to meet the ever-changing global environment for more than two decades.

In today's world of global risk and vulnerability as well as the constantly changing geo-political environment, the TRS International Group is an essential alternative defense apparatus to help maintain a rapid response and effective capability in unique skill sets that are focused in the areas of safety, protection, counter-terrorism, maritime anti-piracy and vessel security, defensive and tactical training, security risk assessment support as well as specialized Intelligence services tailored specifically to the requirements of the client, host government or contracting agencies.

The TRS International Group is prepared to meet the challenges which face the defense, protection, emergency response and intelligence communities with proven competence derived from real world experience in hostile environments. There is no substitute for real world experience in these sensitive matters and thus we offer intelligent and unconventional clarification for what have become conventional problems.

We understand how important it is for firefighters and other first responders to meet current day demands with rapid, intelligent and cost effective solutions. We are always interested in developing mutually beneficial strategic relationships with agencies and companies to develop and deliver exceptional training and services. The TRS International Group would like to offer a special 20% discount to all firefighters and first responders for any of our training classes and courses.

If we can be of any further assistance to you please feel free to contact me directly.

Sincerely,

Jeff Cantor

President TRS International Group
